

COPY RIGHT FORM

Submission of your paper for national conference is understood to imply that the article has not been published previously nor is it being considered for publication elsewhere.

Formal written transfer of copyright on each article from the author(s) to the publisher is needed. This transfer enables the publisher to provide the widest possible dissemination of the article through activities such as distribution of reprints; authorization of reprints, translation, or photocopying by others; production of microfilm editions; and authorization of indexing and abstracting services in print and data base formats. Without this transfer of copyright, such activities by the publisher and the corresponding spread of information are limited.

Author agreement:

Under the Theme of "Intelligent Technologies for Better Tomorrow".

If the article has been written in the course of employment by a Government agency so that no copyright exists, please mark this box.

Otherwise, the copyright is hereby transferred to the 46th ISTE Annual National Convention & National Conference 2017 (February 10-12, 2017) Under the Theme of "Intelligent Technologies for Better Tomorrow", effective if and when the article is accepted for conference.

Author(s) reserve(s) the following:

1. All proprietary rights such as patent rights.
2. The right to use all or part of this article in future works of their own, such as lectures, press releases, reviews or text books.
3. The rights of reproduction and limited distribution for own personal use or for company use for individual clients, provided that source and copyright are indicated and copies per se are not offered for sale.

In case of republication of the whole article or parts thereof by a third party, written permission should be obtained from the 46th ISTE Annual National Convention & National Conference 2017 (February 10-12, 2017) Under the Theme of "Intelligent Technologies for Better Tomorrow", to be signed by at least one of the authors (who agrees to inform the others, if any) or, in the case of a "work made for hire" by the employer.
